| Evaluate the course overall.: 3 (good) good class, boring at times, but section was interesting and material is interesting |
| Evaluate the course overall.: 2 (fair) If you're trying to understand Chinese government and politics, this is a good but not great course for it. |
| Evaluate the course overall.: 5 (excellent) great comparative government class for concentrators |
| Evaluate the course overall.: 4 (very good) This class is very interesting. The TFs are great and the lectures are very informative. The final paper and exam make the end of the term difficult, but I left the class with a much greater understanding of China. |
| Evaluate the course overall.: 5 (excellent) To non-Chinese students: it is very important for all to learn more about Chinese politics. To Chinese students: It is worth your time listening to western perspectives on our own stories. |
| Evaluate the course overall.: 4 (very good) This class was an enjoyable introduction to the recent (late 19th century on) history of China and the Chinese government. If you have no background in this, like me, you will have the opportunity to learn a lot. |
| Evaluate the course overall.: 5 (excellent) A great introduction to modern China. Professor Dillon is an amazing lecturer, and the sections were really enjoyable as well. Not too taxing of a workload, but you can really get a lot out of it if you put in the time! |
| Evaluate the course overall.: 4 (very good) good class |
| Evaluate the course overall.: 5 (excellent) fill out section previews before section, then add on in section. find a study partner and split readings, do the section previews together, and discuss essay topics. a few lectures are a little dry and have hard-to-follow organization, but otherwise it's a fantastic class -- very interesting and not too difficult |
| Evaluate the course overall.: 3 (good) Interesting material, sometimes a bit dull but a good class. |

Evaluate the course overall.: 5 (excellent)

This is an amazing introductory course to Chinese politics. The professor is very engaging and the last 30 minutes of class are optional and always used for questions or discussion. The course covers both the history of modern China as well as various aspects and challenges that China faces including religion, Tibet and Taiwan, and economic issues.

Evaluate the course overall.: 4 (very good)

Nora Dillon cares about her students. The content is really interesting. The teaching fellows are dedicated and very intelligent.

PLEASE COMMENT ON YOUR SECTION LEADER'S TEACHING.

| Evaluate the course overall.: 5 (excellent) Evaluate your Section Leader overall.: 5 (excellent) Jen Pan is a great section leader! Her ability to convey her extensive knowledge of China to students and effectively generate conversation without being confrontational are major strengths. |
| Evaluate the course overall.: 4 (very good) Evaluate your Section Leader overall.: 5 (excellent) Jen is incredible. She was very accommodating to a few conflicts that I had and she ran a very good section. The discussions we had were great--she maneuvered the direction of discussion without overpowering anyone. She was generally a jovial and kind, but highly respected teacher. |
| Evaluate the course overall.: 4 (very good) Evaluate your Section Leader overall.: 5 (excellent) Jen was great -- sections were engaging and I always learned from them. She was knowledgeable, thoughtful, and excellent at communicating. |
